A RACE AGAINST TIME AND DEATH

Features:

- Shocking! Dynamic first person combat with all the style and lurking terror of the cult classic movies of the 60's and 70's
- Realistic "Pump Action Shotgun"
- Instant Death Shot. Either aim for the head of the Zombies and kill them outright, or shoot off their body parts and watch them still come towards you
- Branching story paths that change the progression of the game according to the actions of the player. This adds to the replay value and reveals different story threads
- Macabre thrills! Co-operative play for up to 2 players - split the work while you're splitting heads
- Multi Player System allows the player to change character during the game
- Multi Variety Ending Sequence ensures that the ending is different every time
- Based on the powerful CHIHIRO system

Terrifying creepiness is afoot in House of the Dead III. Twenty years have passed since "The Curien Mansion Incident", and the mad scientist's inhumane experiments have continued - but the doctor is long dead.

So what tormented mind can be behind this gruesome trial?

Has some twisted despot found the doctor's research - or has the gate to Hades opened onto our world, spilling forth the seeds of dark rituals?

Embark on a chilling journey into the loathsome pit of malevolence, an industrial depot lost amid swirling desert sands. Witness the horror first hand as you go in search of a team of missing AMS agents who raided the depot two weeks prior to your assignment. A festival of gore awaits you, so grab your shotgun and head into the depths of an apocalyptic nightmare the likes of which you have never seen before.

Demolish hordes of undead as you unload a lethal spray of shells into them, their bloody fingers clawing at your flesh for support as they disintegrate into a chunky red mist.
